

Avery ROW location

Michael.Traffalis

to:

(b) (6)

06/04/2012 02:51 PM

Cc:

brian, Earl Liverman

Hide Details

From: <Michael.Traffalis@dot.gov>

To: (b) (6)

Cc: <brian@RPA-HLN.COM>, Earl Liverman/R10/USEPA/US@EPA

1 Attachment

Avery Map.pdf

Brad

You are correct. The road centerline and the ROW have different locations. From the attached drawing, I don't see an offset called out which would lead me to believe it is variable in width. Bottom line, the road centerline is closer to the river than the RR centerline, thus the United States doesn't own 50 feet to the south of the centerline of the highway, it would be something less.

Mike